This song is the most beautiful in my memory

My memories are being erased bit by bit

MY VIDIO

3.
Invisible Liquid Medicine Bottle: This group currently does not have drugs to reverse the current damage. I believe that these warm words provide more comfort to this group than drugs. By adding invisible potions and displaying them through ultraviolet light irradiation, the audience will remember them more vividly.

MY VIDIO

1. Print out some important fragments of memory elements, wrap them in anhydrite made of gypsum powder, and seal them with plastic bags. Viewers can dig out these fragments by hand, using a small hammer or knife, allowing viewers to deepen their understanding of this group of people during the hands-on process.
2. I print a part of my work with color changing ink, displaying the book content through temperature, and the content disappears as the temperature decreases, representing the memory fragments of this group that gradually disappear.

ACRYLIC CUBE INSTALLATION

Each cube contains items related to Alzheimer's disease, with each item representing a different meaning and symbolism. Through this installation, I hope to resonate with the audience and show more care and warmth to people with Alzheimer's disease.
