

My name is Quentin Stevenson and I am a member of the LGBTQ+ community, I have always had strong feelings about how the community has been treated and I want to do all I can to help change people's perspectives on it, even if the action is small. I hoped my animatic would help people see the reality that LGBTQ+ people have to live with, particularly lesbians and other members that identify as female or appear feminine. Whilst my animatic wasn't the best quality it does highlight real situations LGBTQ+ members go through no matter their identities, such as being scared of entering certain areas and large crowds due to the fear of being judged or hate crimed or even having people thinking they can "change their minds". I also speak about LGBTQ+ issues and try to give them more representation on my Instagram account: @Dangerd00dles. I also do a lot of creature design work and I wanted to show that in my animatic too with the protagonists and some of the other designs! Both the protagonists are a species I have been working on for a while now so I also used this animatic as a chance to show them off!
