

Broken Stones

Wey-Side Studios

Project Description:
Wey-Side Studios is a proposed interactive sustainable jewellery workshop, inspired by the South Coast Users go on a Farnham Pub Crawl to collect used beer bottles to upcycle into beautiful hand-crafted pieces of treasure. Users can showcase their new skills to the public through an open retail space and when completed to take their creations home. Alongside an extended educational exhibition, visitors can witness real time making to give them an insight into the positive impacts the workshop has on the environment, transitioning into active individuals, contributing to an eco-friendlier society.

'The Bottle Drop':
The impact of breaking down the bottles into useable pieces

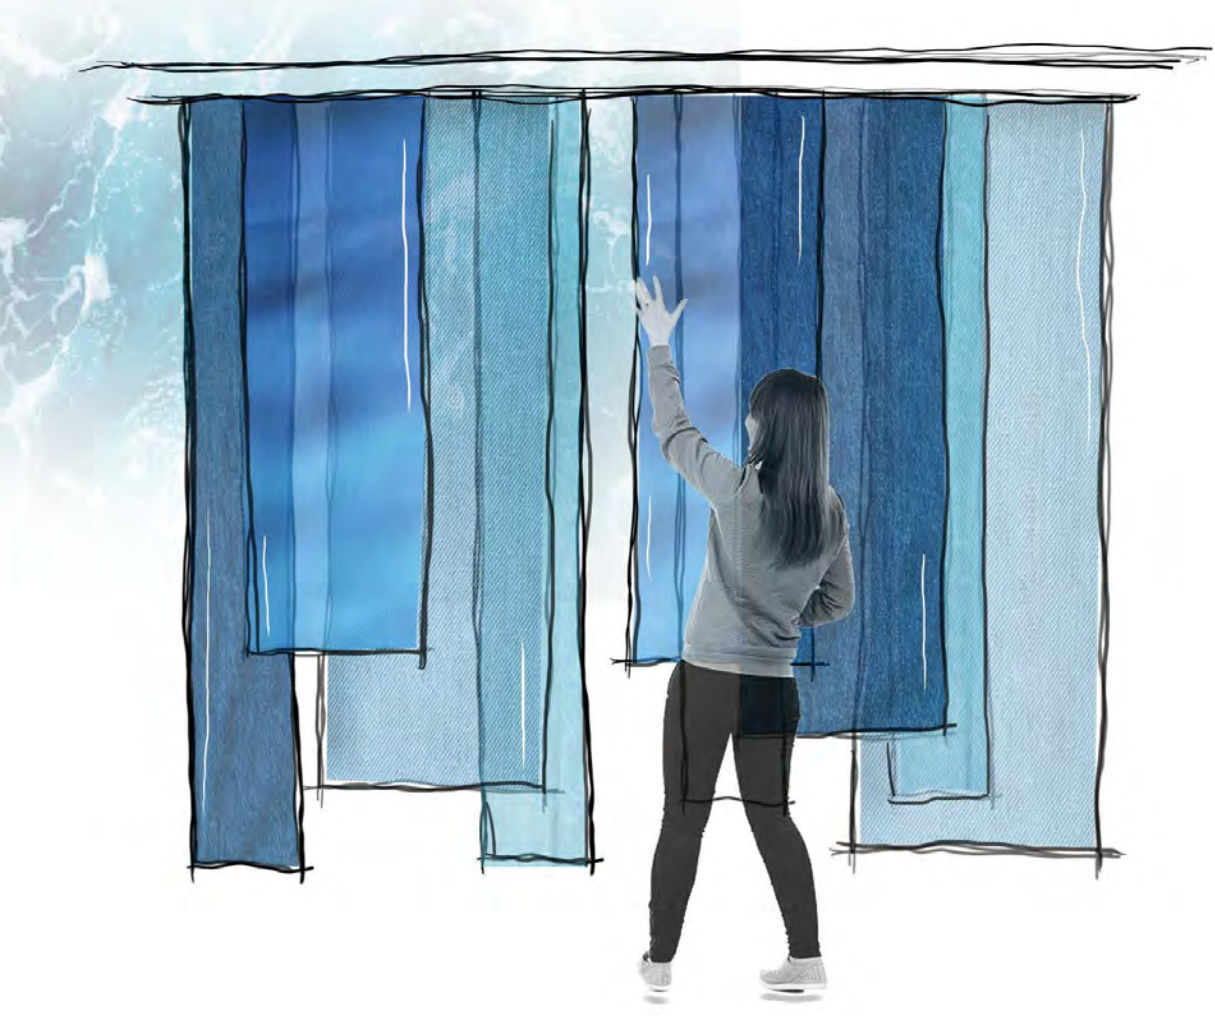

'High-Tides' Gift Shop:

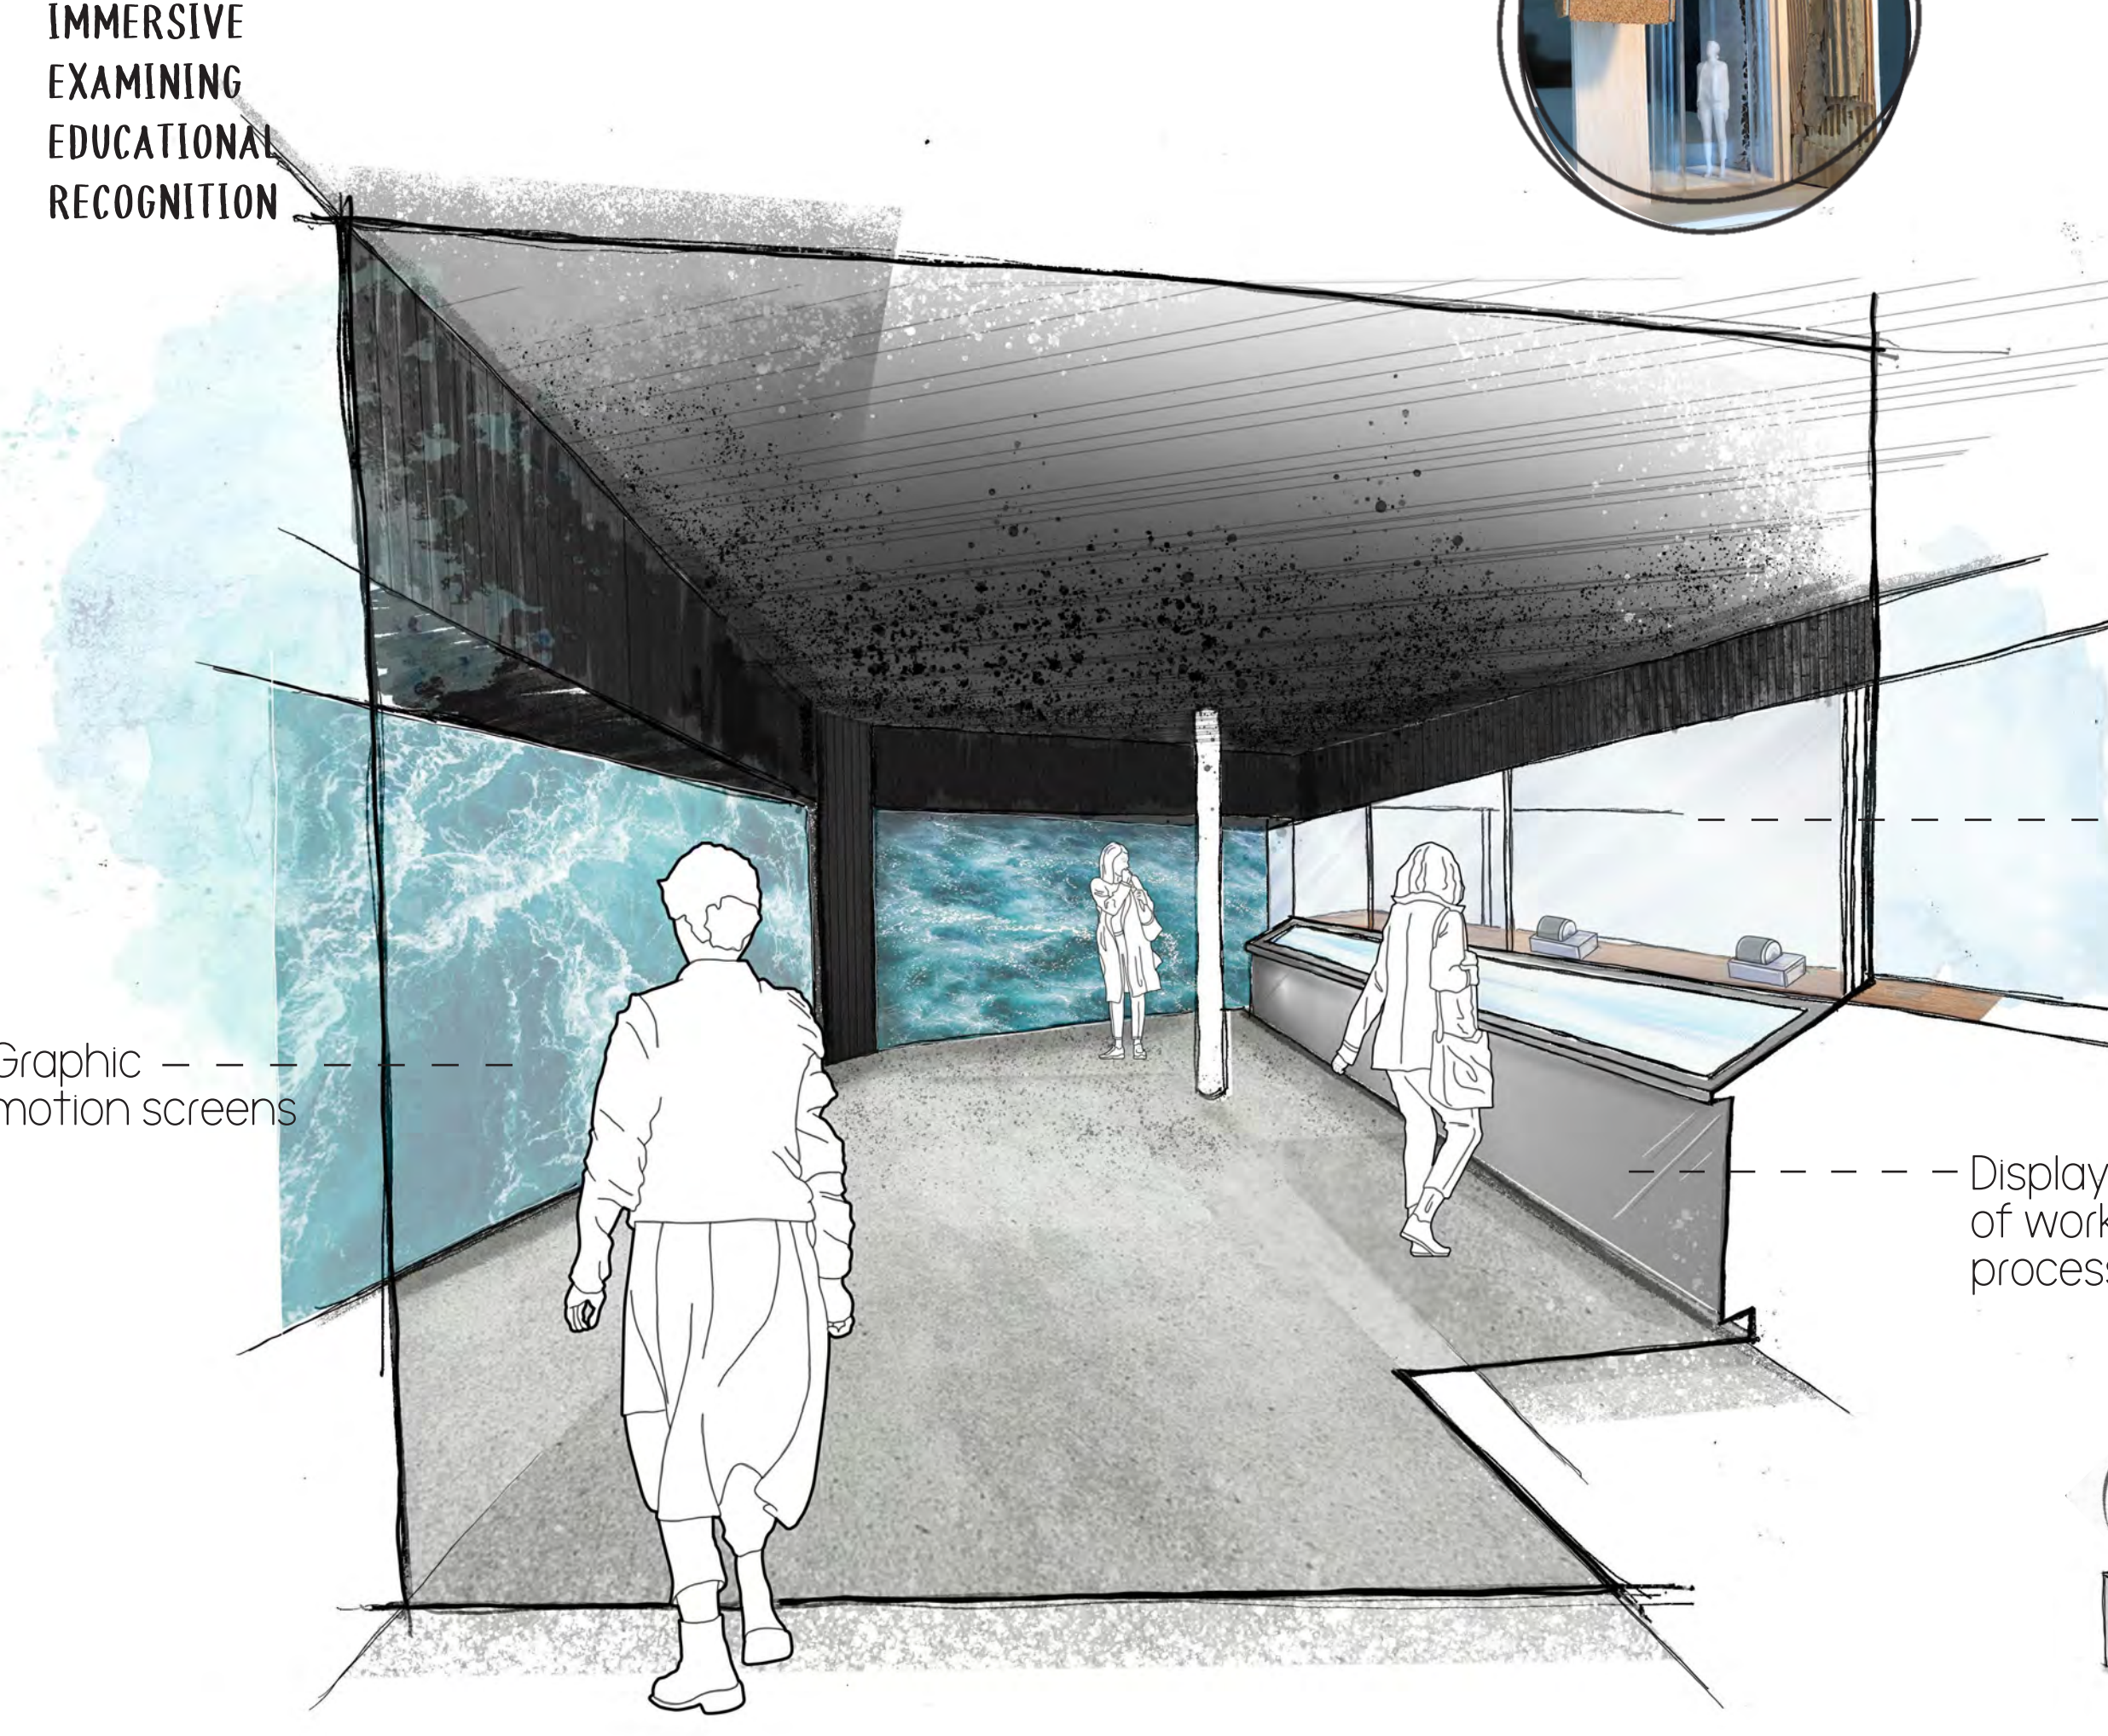

Within the shop, people can watch the 'fragment' of the bottles from 'The Bottle Drop'.

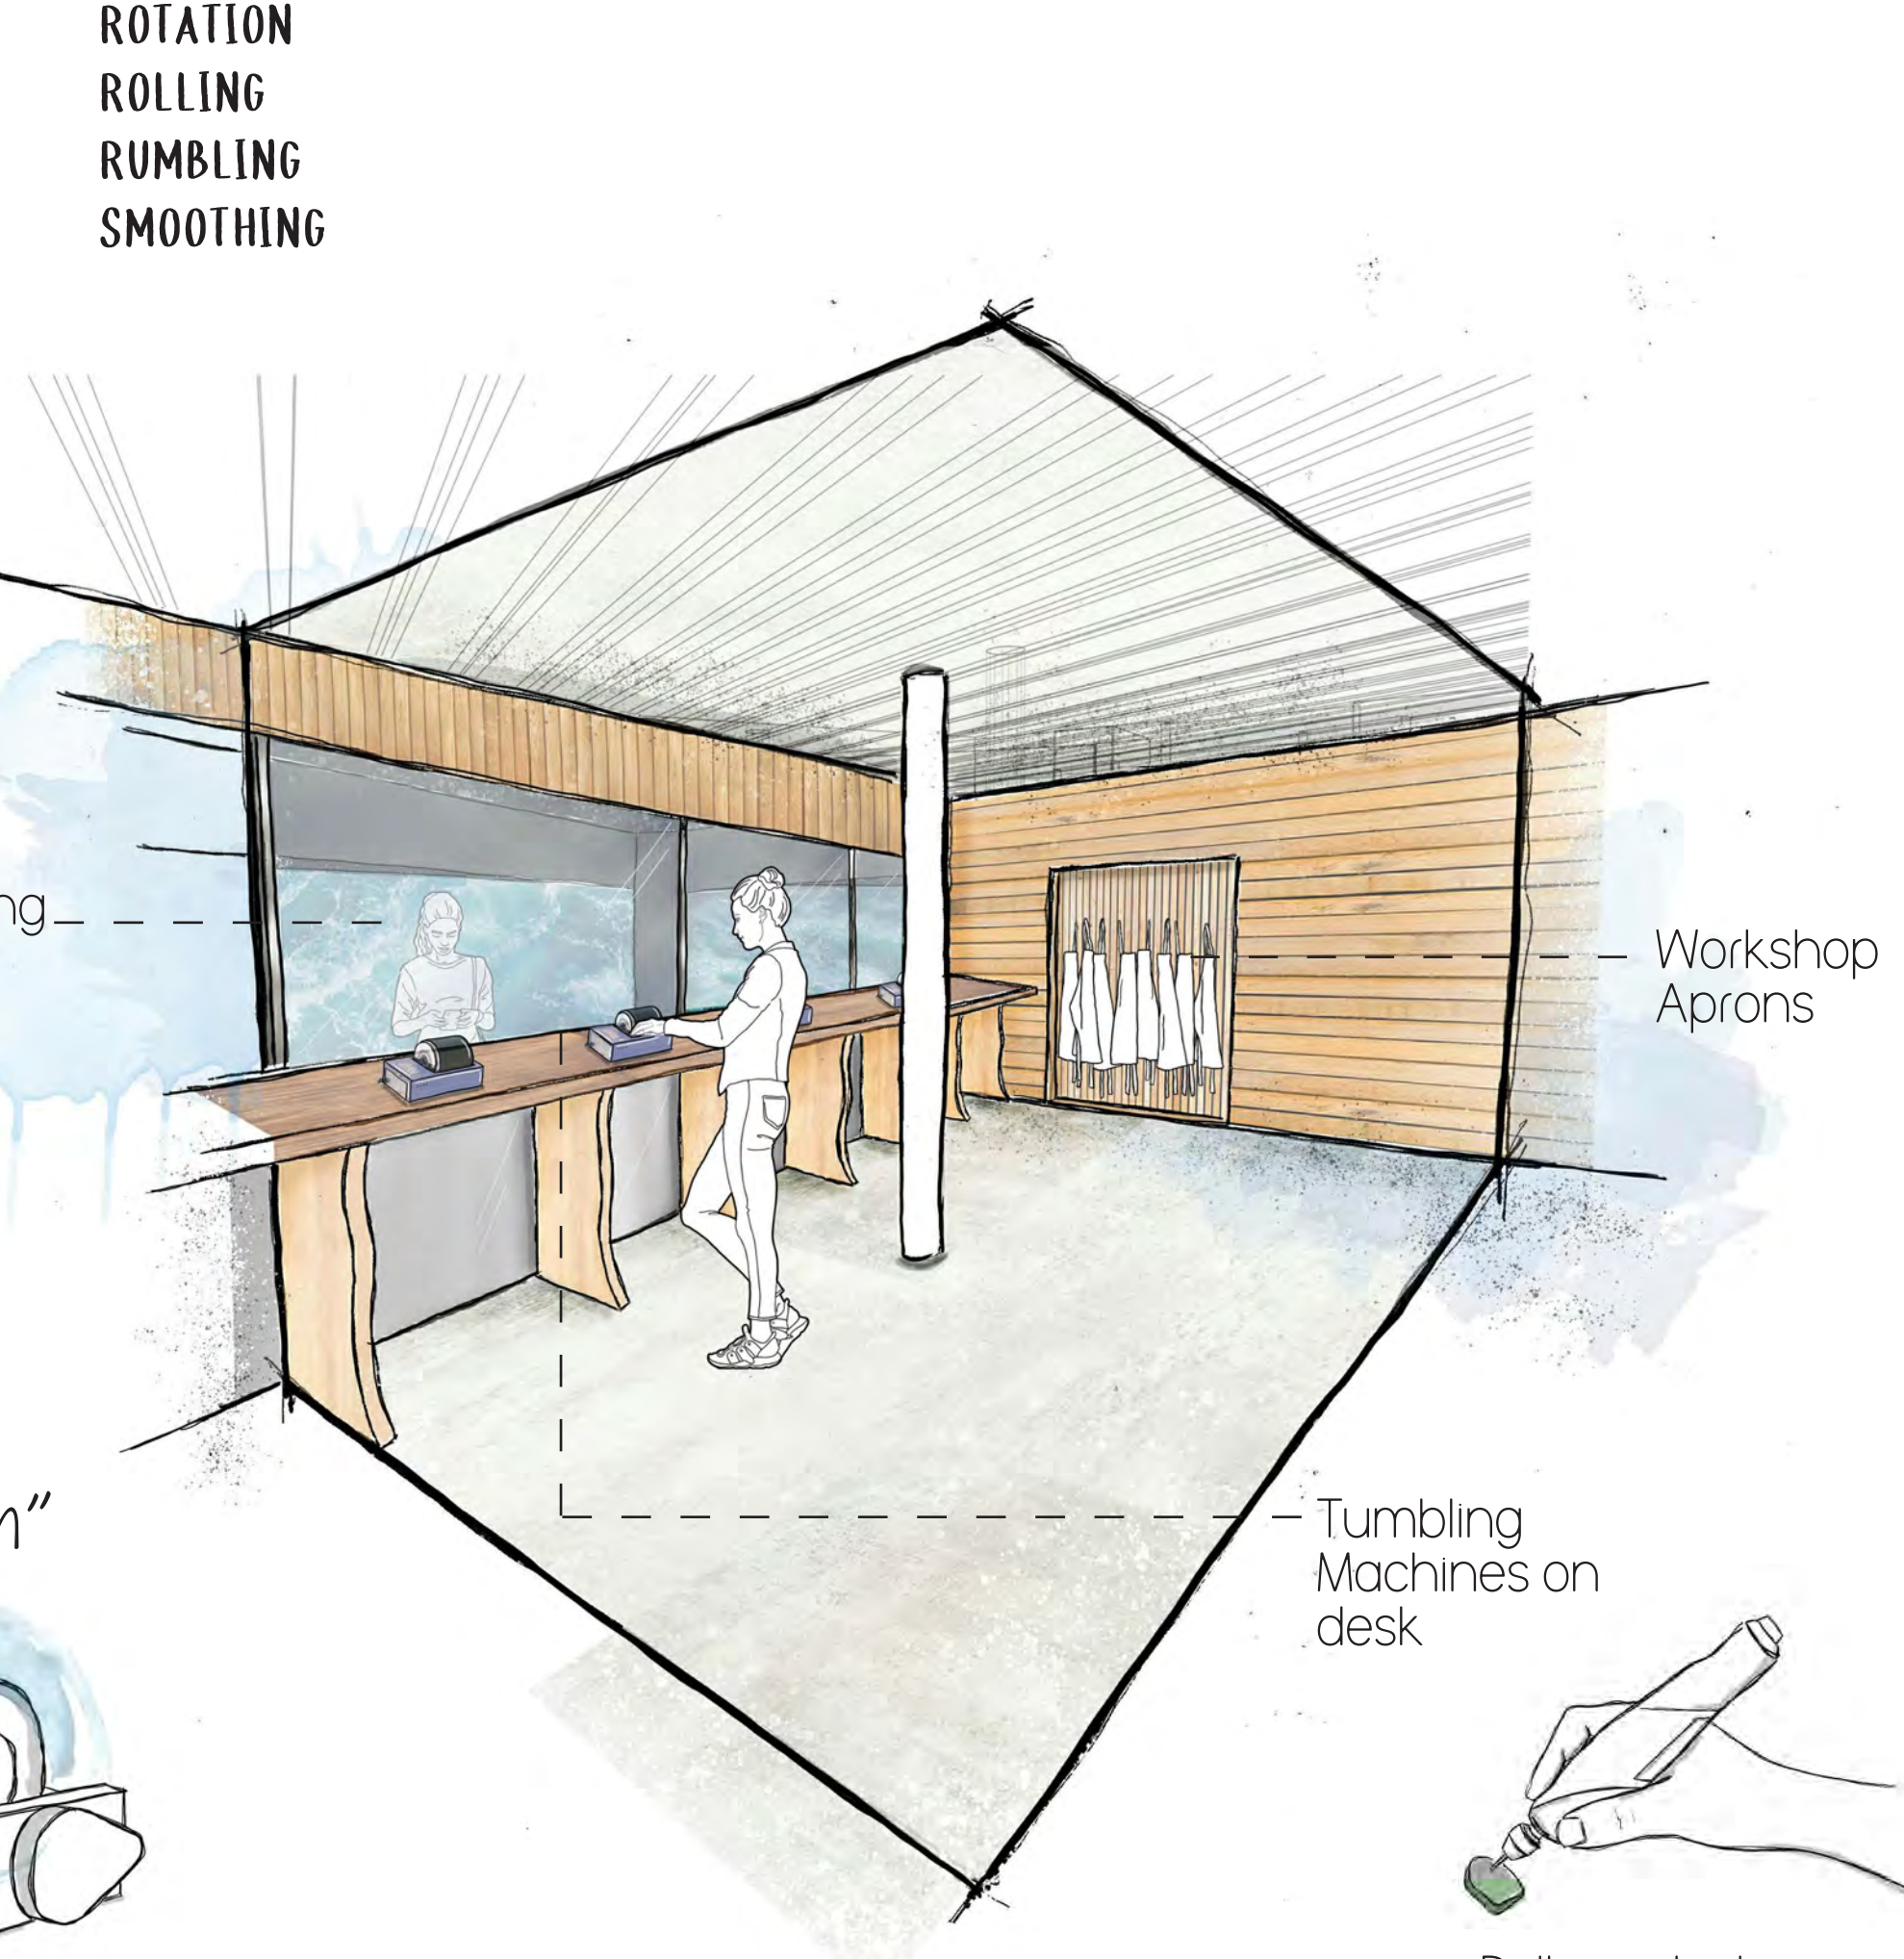

'Coastal Discoveries' Entrance:

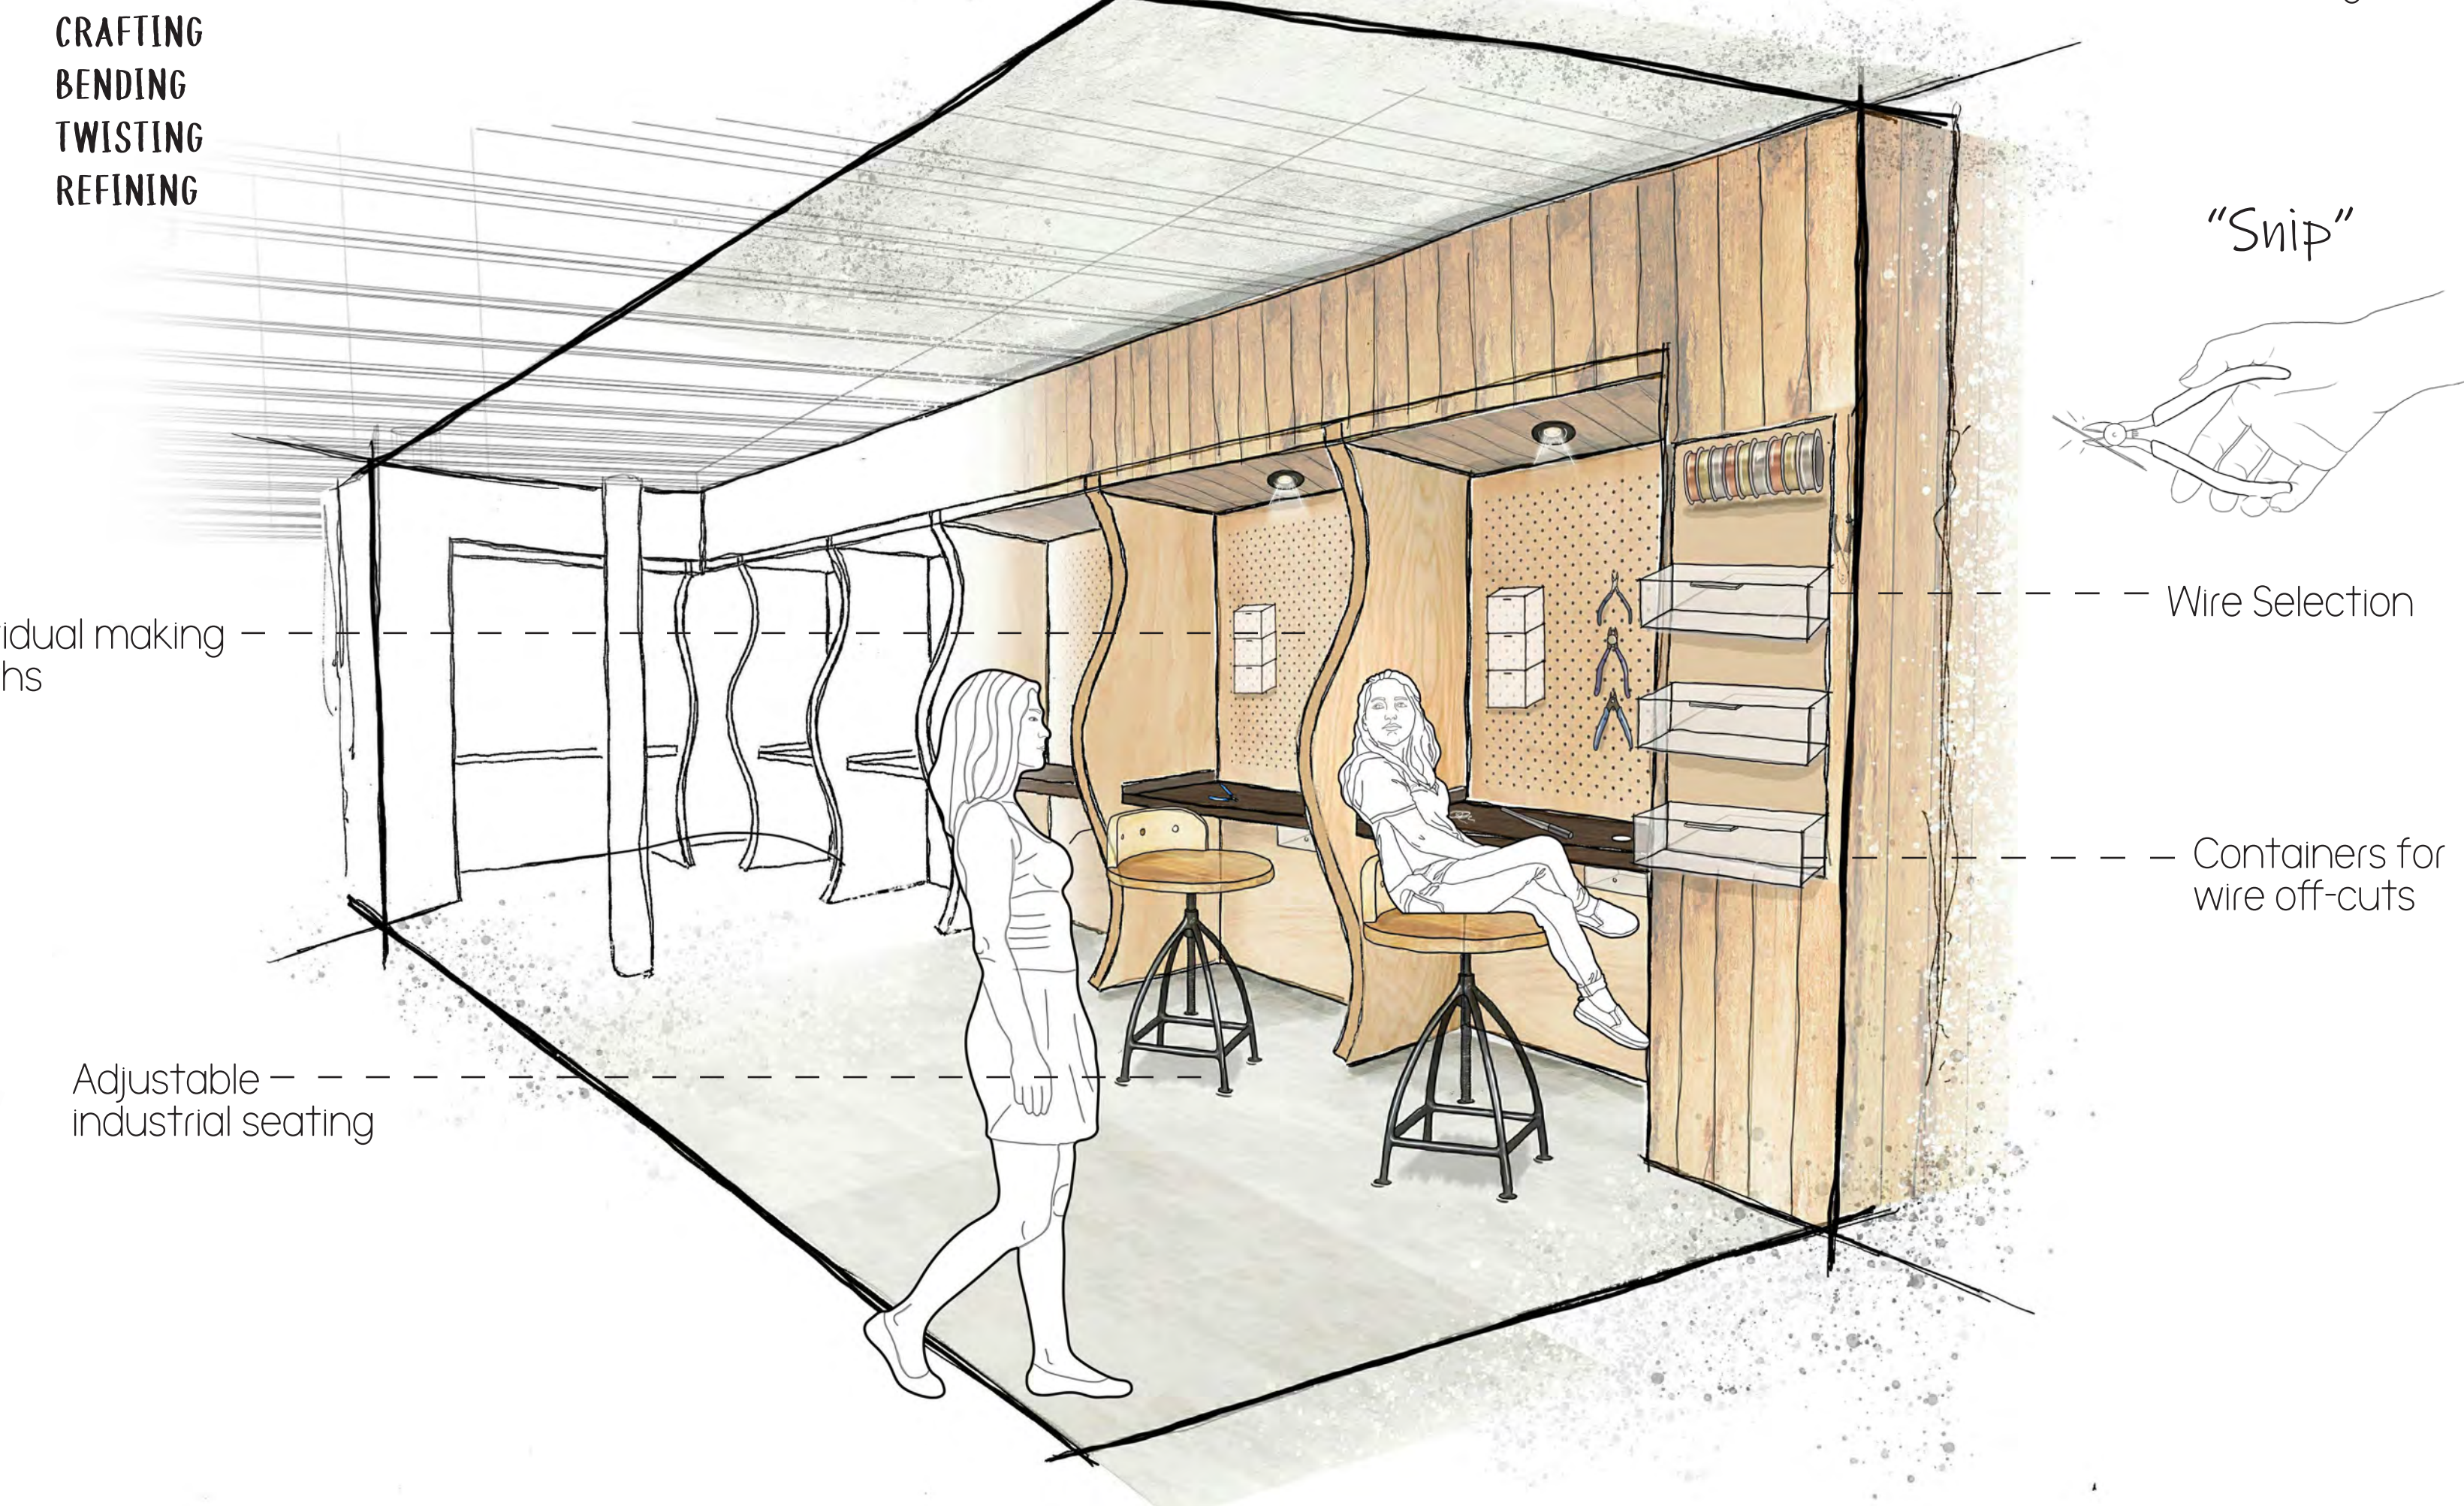

'Coastal Discoveries' Exhibition:

Workshop - Tumbling:

Workshop - Polishing:

Drilling inbetween Tumbling and Polishing

"Swip"

Wire Selection

Containers for wire off-cuts