

Magic Found in the Dark, Light reborn

I offered a sincere prayer in the church, and the candle responded with a passionate flame.

My work depicts a journey of the soul — from the depths of despair to the awakening of faith, self-love, and rebirth.

At first, I faced the darkness and helplessness head-on, feeling isolated, as if I were nothing more than a hollow shell without a soul.

Guided by faith, I began to notice the subtle lights and quiet magic hidden in everyday life, learning to embrace myself with love and a healing heart.

In the end, I rose from the fragments, living authentically and telling my own story through creation.

This is a work about the courage to break through darkness, to embrace oneself anew, and to illuminate the souls of others with the power of deep empathy.
